DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 8-9, 11-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Reynolds, US Patent No. 3,355,350.

Reynolds teaches a saveall device positioned between an upper roll of a press nip and a dewatering belt that runs above a pulp web, see Nip 2 of figure 1 and figure 2-3. Figures 1-3 show the wedge shape area with has a bottom strip 30, channel 36, water collecting troughs 27, opening 35 for draining the pocket 33 which is suction drained, (column 3, lines 22), see also column 4, line 66 through column 5, line 50. Note that the figures show that the bottom strip 30 is inclined at least 10° with respect to the dewatering belt. Even though not explicitly disclosed a save-all is per se a collecting tank¹ and therefore, the newly added limitation is inherently within the teaching of the cited reference or at least would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to collect the water in a collecting tank to re-use it in the process, i.e. as dilution water, etc. Note that it is common in a papermaking process to re-use/recycle different streams, i.e., whitewater, for economical and/or environmental reasons.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 2-5, 7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reynolds, cited above.

Art Unit: 1731

Reynolds is silent with regard to the specifics of the above claims, i.e., with regard to the distance between the suction channels or the absolute value of the under-pressure or vacuum. However, one of ordinary skill in the art would recognize that this is a matter of optimization of a result effective variables and it has been held that “[T]he discovery of an optimum value of a result effective variable in a known process is ordinarily within the skill of the art. In re Antoine, 559 F.2d 618, 195 USPQ 6 (CCPA 1977); In re Aller, 42 CCPA 824, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (1995).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure in the art of “Savealls.”

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
